

World Book Day

Just to let you know that World Book Day is on Thursday 2nd March. To celebrate their love of reading, the children will be asked to dress up as their favourite character from a book. We look forward to seeing their costumes!

Story telling week

Next week is National Storytelling week and during that week we have a Drama for All workshop. Also during that week parents are invited to come and tell a story – not read- but tell a story to the class which is slightly different. It would be lovely for the children to hear a range of stories from other countries or cultures, traditional tales or poems which they would not have heard. The storytelling will take place each afternoon, for the last 20 minutes of the day, 3.00-3.20pm.

If you are able to come in please let me know through the Link book, email the office or speak to me. I will then add you to the rota.

Fine diner/Proud cloud

Our fine diner is Sonny. He is always polite in the lunch hall.

Our proud cloud is Rahman for trying hard with his writing this week. He has used some wonderful vocabulary and focussed on making sense.

Have a lovely weekend! 😊

Learning this week

English: This week in English the children have been introduced to the non-chronological report 'The Manchester Ridge Back' which they have internalised by reciting it with pictures and actions to help. We have used this to discuss the features of a non-chronological report and the language used in a report.

RE: The children enjoyed their trip to the church this week. They were able to explore the church and discover the uses and importance of artefacts. The children behaved brilliantly and were a credit to the school. Well done!

Topic: During Topic, the children have started to create their seascape collage to show what the sea would have been like when Christopher Columbus was exploring. As the children were creating their seascapes they thought about the different materials they needed to use for the different parts of the collage and how to create different textures in their picture.

Pre-learning

Next week in Topic we are learning about the best materials to use for a ship. It would be beneficial to your child if you could discuss properties of different materials such as stable, waterproof, stiff and check their understanding of floating. Could the children please bring in boxes, tin foil, materials, yoghurt pots, ice cream tubs, any other interesting materials to use in our topic sessions. Thank you.

In Maths next week we will be practising counting forwards and backwards in 2, 5 and 10. It would be beneficial for your child if they could practise this at home too. We will also be revisiting number bonds to 100/1000.
