

Learning this week

English This week we have been looking at writing recounts. We have learnt about connectives and have been practising using them to connect two sentences together. We have been putting all the skills we've learnt so far into practise: Full stops, capital letters, adjectives, time words and now connectives. Writing is such a complicated process!!

Maths This week we have been looking at skill of estimating. The children had such fun estimating different objects and people from around Elmer class. My favourite estimate was how many toes there were! After a count, we can confirm that there were 290 toes in Elmer class.

Highlight of The Week - We have a new question board in Elmer, where the children can ask any question they want answering. If they have any spare time their challenge is to find the answer. I have been blown away by the children's curiosity. My favourite question this week was 'Why do we need fish?' I will share the answer in due course!
