

Learning this week

English What an exciting phonics festival we have had this week! We have been engaged in a multitude of exciting phonic based activities. This multisensory approach has really let us show off our phonic skills in our reading and writing. You can access some of the games we have been enjoying for free at Maths We have really challenged ourselves this week by looking at groups of numbers (multiplication). We used objects to help us learn this new concept. We looked at groups of 2, 5 and 10!

Highlight of The Week - Our family group activity based on the general election. What an exciting debate we had!

Phonics

We will be undertaking the phonics screening test at some point next week. As an additional boost can you see if you can spot any split digraphs this weekend? (Lake, bake, like, Pete, home, fuse, rude) If you're not sure what this is - ask your child!

We hope you all have a relaxing weekend.

Our proud cloud is: Teagan for trying so hard with her handwriting.

Our fine diner is: Hailey for always being so helpful at lunchtime.

Update

I am pleased to report that our first week has been a success. I am so proud with how well the children have adapted to the changes they faced this week.

A massive thank you to those that have volunteered to help on a Tuesday or Thursday, and a reminder that children will need wellies/coats/sun hats/ sun cream - depending on the weather!

Pre-learning:

We are looking at non chronological reports next week. Can you look at some newspaper clippings and discuss the headline, pictures, captions and type of language used in a report.
